PROJECTS

ArrayArmor: Deterministic Integrity Enforcement for Tensors in Unified Memory Architectures

Jan 2026 – Present

- Co-designed a security architecture enforcing tensor integrity across CPU–accelerator memory boundaries before kernel execution.
- Built a Docker-based microservice pipeline (CPU → Memory → NPU) simulating untrusted accelerator memory environments.
- Implemented cryptographic verification using SHA-256, SHA-512, and BLAKE2b.
- Integrated Apple MLX runtime to measure real accelerator execution overhead.

Enhanced-MCAD: Deep Learning Intrusion Detection System for SDN

Aug 2025 – Nov 2025

- Evaluated multiple deep learning architectures (MLP, DNN, Transformer, GNN, NLP, VAE) for intrusion detection in an SDN environment.
- Applied Explainable AI (GNNExplainer) to identify influential nodes and edges in SDN traffic graphs.
- Achieved up to 96% accuracy and 0.97 F1-score using GraphSAGE GNN on a balanced SDN dataset.
